Deputy Roche will bring an action against the editor of the Libre Parole for libel.

Rome, 14th.—A marriage between Don Jaime, son of the Spanish Pretender, aged 22, and Princess Mercedes, aged 12, sister of the child King of Spain, is being considered.

It is said that the King of Roumania will abdicate immediately after the marriage of his son to Princess Marie of Edinburgh.

THE MURDER OF SEÑORA LOZARDI.

This is one of the most atrocious and cold-blooded assassinations ever committed in the Argentine Republic. It is said to have been done by 8 men, who broke into the house at dead of night, Señor Lozardi being at the time in Buenos Ayres. At this stage of the proceedings it is impossible to say who is the murderer, but the story about a gang of 8 men is clearly a fabrication. All that we know from the Rosario papers is that the dogs gave no alarm, the peons profess to know nothing about the tragedy, the house was not robbed, and no one was injured except the unfortunate lady who was cruelly murdered in bed.

Impunity for crime has become in this country a direct incentive to murder, and this is quite sufficient to explain the horrible assassination in question. A month hence it will be forgotten. Week after week, almost day after day, we have to record awful crimes of this description, but the assassin is never punished. This state of things cannot go on for ever. It was so for some time in San Francisco, until the citizens organized a Committee of Public Safety and Lynched not only assassins but officials who connived at, or permitted, their escape.

The worst feature in the present case is the apparent indifference of the Government in matters of this kind. The most diabolical murders are committed, but neither the National Government, Congress nor the Federal Court feel bound to take any action.

We can remember, however, only four years ago, when the valuable horses of Mr. Cambaceres were stolen the whole machinery of government was set in motion to discover, arrest and punish the criminals. Special bodies of police were sent to scour the country, special judges were appointed to try the daring robbers, and the outrageous crime of stealing valuable horses was duly punished.

Since writing the above the Capital of Rosario has come to hand with the following further particulars:

"Persons acquainted with the unhappy lady contradict the rumour of an attack on the house, and assert that it was a case of pre-meditated murder.

Doña Aurelia Saa Pereyra belonged to one of the richest families in the vicinity of Rosario, and inherited a large fortune in landed property on the death of her parents, after which she married Felipe Lozardi. For some time back they did not get on well, and Lozardi spent most of his time at Buenos Ayres, while she managed the estancia. A few days ago there was a serious altercation between them, because she refused to mortgage some property for him, he being in want of money. Lozardi's brother who was at the estancia is under arrest, as well as some of the peons."

THE CRISIS AT CORDOBA.

The unexpected always happens, and the resignation of Governor Pizarro of Cordoba has taken everybody by surprise. During his brief term of office he did a remarkable public service by unmasking the system of fraud that had prevailed under his predecessors. In the official report of last August he shewed that the public debt of 115,000,000$ was made up thus—

	$
San Roque dam....	4,300,000
Other works	2,650,000
Bank of Cordoba ..	34,230,000
Land purchases....	4,140,000
Missing	69,680,000
Total.....	115,000,000

He was, however, unable to make any of the persons implicated in the frauds disgorge their share of the booty, and he found the local finances so deranged that the Commissaries and policemen in several districts were long unpaid. Under such circumstances he grew sick of a position that was less enviable than Sancho Panza's government in the Island of Barataria.

He had obtained from the Chambers a leave of absence for 60 days, when his prime-minister, Dr. Berrotaran, threw up his portfolio, and thereupon he suddenly resigned office, after a government of 8 months. He will be succeeded by the Vice-governor, Don Julio Astrada, who belongs to the Roca party, and the course of events will then flow on as if nothing had happened.

The Cordovese people are prone, as a rule, to take things quietly. They cannot pay the interest on their foreign debt, but this reflection will cause them no uneasiness. If the San Roque dam were properly settled they would sleep securely, and this is doubtless one of the first matters to which Governor Astrada will give his attention. Otherwise the least accident to a tank holding 260,000 tons of water would sweep away the city of Cordoba in five minutes.

THE POTOSI MAILS.

LATEST FROM CHILE.

Valparaiso, Dec. 3rd.

Don José Gayoso, Spanish Minister, has succeeded to the title and estates of the Duke of Arcos, and notifies the Government that in future his despatches will be signed thus. The Duke's villa, 5 miles from Cordova, is one of the finest in Spain.

The Western Courier says:—"We learn that General Velasquez, after more than a year's confinement aboard different vessels of the Chilian squadron, is to be allowed ashore on parole. He will be conducted to a small estate which he owns near Quillota, beyond the limits of which he will not be allowed to stroll; in fact, as he will still remain under close arrest, it is questionable where the utility of the parole comes in."

In the Senate the other day, Senator Ross called the attention of the Minister of Colonization to a report that sheep farmers in Tierra del Fuego are shooting down Indians caught stealing from the flocks. The Minister, in reply, said that the same report had reached his ears, but as a sub-delegate had been sent to that territory, he expected that the shooting of Indians by sheep farmers would not be repeated.

An Englishman named William Fitzherbert was journeying by train from Talca to Concepcion. Passing the Pileo cutting he leaned out of the window when he was struck by one of the many projecting stones and killed.

At the frontier locusts have appeared in large quantities. The presence of these devastating insects is generally attributed to the recent great heat. In consequence, the Government entomologist, Mr. Edwyn C. Reed, has been instructed to postpone his journey to Mendoza for the purpose of studying the Argentine locust, and to proceed to the province of Biobio.

Advices from the wheat growing districts in the south are of a very favourable nature. The crops are in splendid condition, and should nothing untoward happen the yield will be fully up to the average, and of good quality.

In Chiloe some two hundred labourers have been engaged on contract for the railway between Osorno and Union. The contractors are also engaging men from both north and south of Chile, and a great number of Austrians and Italians from the Argentine Republic.

As it appears likely that the Talcahuano dry dock will not be completed before 1895, Mr. Jeronimo Flond has petitioned the Government for permission to construct a floating dock. The Intendente of Concepcion is strongly backing this petition.

A petition has been presented to the authorities, signed by a number of Valparaiso "comerciantes," having for its object the compulsory closing of liquor shops on Sundays. If we had a hundred votes we would gladly give them in favour of any scheme in the direction of reducing the drink evil, and consider that the closing of a great many drinking dens in this city, not only upon Sunday, but also upon every other day of the week, would be an event worthy of national rejoicings.

The Chilian Times says:—

We regret to announce the death, under very sad circustances, of Professor Schulze. He was engaged in his laboratory in an experiment in which arsenic largely entered, and inhaled a quantity of the fumes before he became aware that he was poisoned. When he discovered his condition he wrote with a piece of chalk at the foot of the apparatus the following warning: "Cuidado! As H.," and then made the best of his way home, where he was promptly attended by several medical men. From the first his case was considered critical, but on two or three days there was such a marked improvement in his condition as to warrant the belief that he would recover. Unfortunately those hopes were not destined to be realised, and he succumbed to the effects of the poison on Thursday. The deceased professor was norn in Dresden in 1853, studied at Freiburg and Leipzg, and was a man of considerable scientific and literary attainments, and an enthusiastic investigator. He arrived in Chili, under contract, in 1885, and the University Laboratory was built and arranged according to his directions. He was a great favourite with his students, and was universally esteemed in Santiago. The funeral took place on Saturday. At 4 p.m. the Hall of the University was filled with a numerous and select assemblage, including the professors of the University, the members of the Council of Public Instruction, and representative Germans. The German Minister, Baron Trescow, sat on the right of the Rector of the University. After a choral had been sung by the German Society several funeral orations were delivered, and this part of the funeral obsequies was brought to a close by another choral by the before mentioned society. At 5.30 p.m. the funeral cortege, fully three quarters of a mile in length, started for the cemetery. On arriving there some more funeral orations were delivered, and more choralss were sung, and then the body was deposited in the family vault of Mr. Charles Klein.

The body of Mrs. Lewis, wife of Captain Lewis was on the 15th instant, exhumed in the Bellavista Protestant Cemetery at Callao, by order of the authorities, on suspicion of poisoning. Mr. George G. Wilson, British Consul and President of the Benevolent Society, was present at the exhumation of the remains. The body was in a remarkably good state of preservation notwithstanding that it had been buried nearly eleven months.

AFFAIRS IN AFRICA.

(Our London Correspondent)

There is no doubt that the Uganda question inherited from their predecessors who, in spite of Lord Salisbury's denial, purposely shirked the consequences of their own acts until they saw how the elections went, is a difficulty in the Gladstone cabinet, though it may not have been introduced in yesterday's councel. It must be a difficulty with Mr. Gladstone himself, whose sympathies are divided between the missionary and anti-slave trade causes he would gladly espouse, and the responsibility of launching the country into unknown liabilities by establishing a British protectorate in the heart of Africa. The protectorate and all its immense responsibilities must eventually extend along the gold fields and line of lakes from Capetown to the Sudan. As for the lake country we have no titles of possession beyond a kind of treaty made by Lord Salisbury with Germany, which France or any other power is not bound to recognize. Germany has secured Heligoland by that treaty; besides morally binding Great Britain as her ally in Africa if not elsewhere. There is no great objection to any such alliance with our good friends and kinsmen, the Germans, if we have well counted the cost of it in case of a European war, and an attack upon German settlements in Africa by French forces. With such possibilities in view it is absurd for explorers, adventurers and commercial promoters to keep nagging us about philanthropy, christianity and cotton goods, when the advantages they refer to are palpable to babies, supposing that all we have to do is to survey and build lines of railways to connect the lakes with one another and with the sea, and to send out as usual missionary, consul and soldier. But the lines of intercommunication will take years to establish, as the East African Association has discovered already in Uganda—and it is the Association itself not the Government that wants to scuttle, unless the British people are prepared in anticipation of a new empire and great trade, fifty or a hundred years hence, to assist the East African Association, firstly by the military suppression of the Arab power, in itself no trifle, and then by advancing the capital for the railways and the thousand and one necessary works which will follow; besides, the expense of strongly garrisoning possessions that are surrounded by those of other European powers; and at present all for the sole benefit of a chartered company and to aid the protestant niggers in exterminating the catholic niggers and suppressing the slave trade in one district in Africa when the East African Association and their exploring and missionary allies absolutely acknowledge that perhaps just at present, and until we get railways made and the steamers built and other things, it would be rather convenient to keep the slave trade going, as there is no other means of carrying goods, bibles and liquor from one place to another. At present the Arabs do that for us, and why should we pry into their affairs? It has just been discovered that our good friends and kinsmen the Germans are supplying our enemies in Nyssaland with rifles and a big gun. The Arab convoy conveying the armament was met by an English officer and he had time to notice the marks and numbers of the cases. Quite right. The selling of rifles is a German interest. The conveying of them is an Arab interest. As M. Leroy-Beaulieu says, it is all a matter of interests. Well, fight for them; but surely, anyone with an ounce of higher reason must see that the politician cannot view these matters in the same light as a commercial adventurer who pockets his swag and has no further responsibility. As for missionaries, with the sincerest respect for their duties, I think that for them, pioneering is a mistake in this age. It was all very well for Howard and the Abb Huc, but the missionary now must follow, not precede civilisation, excepting perhaps in Patagonia and absolutely savage and sparsely populated countries hemmed in geographically or politically. I have just read of English girls of good families and of superior education being engaged in protestant mission work amongst the seething millions of North China. They were conveyed from place to place by river, and starved in the stifling holds of junks, packed with naked or half naked coolies. I cannot admire that form of Christian sacrifice. It is thrown away. You can conceive the horror the recital excited in my breast, when I tell you it induced me to read a missionary tract. They call it the "Gleaner." I found it charmingly written and intensely interesting, but one after another, the workers in densely populous countries, such as Egypt, China and India, acknowledged they did nothing. One of them compared mission work to sailing on lake Lucerne. The land closes, and we think we are at the end of our journey; but again and again the land opens and new "vistas" are before us. In respect to Uganda, I confess I am not an advocate of what silly people call "scuttle," and I do not think it will be attempted, as the mischief is done and would not be improved by the abandonment of the place. At the same time we can appreciate Mr. Gladstone's wise hesitancy as well as the opinions of those who, taking a bird's-eye view of the dotted globe, and the responsibilities of Great Britain in war time, with a company of soldiers here, a flag post there; a coal depot in one spot and a gun-boat in another. Present conditions are not the same as in the last century. Great Britain is absolutely richer and more prosperous than ever, but relatively she is much weaker. Her watchword should be concentration not extension, when in Europe alone millions of men are in arms waiting for Armageddon.

* * * *

It is very widely rumoured in diplomatic circles that Sir Charles Euan Smith will not return as Minister to Tangier, and that he has in fact, though not precisely in name, been recalled. It is even said that his place has been taken by an attaché from St. Petersburg, Mr. Elliott, who has been sent almost direct to Tangier, and who goes as chargé d'affaires, and as a regular member of the diplomatic service.

A gentleman who has just returned from Tangier and other places in Morocco informs me that the French in that country are at present masters of the situation. Lord Salisbury's game of bluff, as played by his chosen representative Sir Charles Euan Smith, was a complete failure.

The effects of Lord Salisbury's imperial policy will obtrude continually in the world's affairs for some time to come. It will be interesting to know if the persons referred to in the following paragraph are unattached Germans or armed British missionaries.

"Advices have been received here by mail from Lagos, under date Sept. 24, stating that several Europeans, whose nationality is not known, have been observed in the Dahomeyan Army, and that the commander of the French forces has offered a reward of 2,000 fcs. for the capture of each of these men."

THE SECOND BARING ANNIVERSARY.

The making-up prices of yesterday have more than their usual interest, because the occasion is the second anniversary of the day on which Mr. Liddersdale called together the financial magnates of the City of London, and initiated the famous Baring Guarantee Fund, which made his reputation. Under these circumstances it becomes a matter of special interest to examine, not only the present tone of the market as shewn in the movements during the past account, but the comparative prices now and two years ago. In Argentines, of course, this comparison is particularly interesting, and it is set out below, not only for the Government obligations, but also for the representative railway stocks:—

ARGENTINE SECURITIES.

	Mid. Nov. 1890	Mid. Nov. 1892
Argentine 1881 ...	98	55
Do. 1884.....	80	45
Do. 1886.....	80	73
Do. Funding....	—	72
Do. Cedules B..	31¼	32¼
Buenos Ayres 1882 and 1886.....	87	38½
Buenos Ayres Great Southern	161	126½
Buenos Ayres and Rosario	136	80
Central Argentine	95	72½
East Argentine....	84	36½
Argentine Great West. Debentures	7¼	5¼

In looking at these comparative prices it is necessary to keep in mind that those first quoted represent the culmination of the crisis, and that they had been falling away for months before that; also that they have been steadily recovering during the past few months. Therefore the difference between yesterday's making-up prices and those of the mid-November Account in 1890 represent neither the highest nor the lowest points touched before and after the Baring crisis respectively.

To realise what the collapse of Argentine credit really meant, we must compare the highest prices touched in 1889 with the lowest since, and this we do for the same stocks already enumerated, in the following table:—

	Highest in 1889.	Lowest since.
Argentine 1881... .	112¾	37
Do. 1884.....	100¼	29
Do. 1886.....	100¾	52¼
Buenos Ayres 1882 and 1886	104¾	24
Buenos Ayres Great Southern.....	220	101¼
Buenos Ayres and Rosario	185¼	56
Central Argentine....	219	40
East Argentine.....	110	38¼
Argentine Gt. West. Debentures	98	39

The rise has recently been a somewhat rapid one, and there is reason to believe that attehtion has been so closely concentrated on a few special stocks that others equally deserving of a lift have been left out in the cold, while the favourites have in some cases been sent ahead too fast. But taking the most favourable case, there is still shown a terrible discrepancy between the present prices and those which ruled in the palmy days of 1889. It is late in the day to moralise on the cause of this, but even now, when the market has emerged from the deepest of the gloom, there is food for thought in a comparison of yesterday's anniversary making-up prices and the highest level reached when the Argentine boom was at its height, as shown in the first column of the table last given.

ROSARIO.

PRESENTATION TO W. PRITCHARD.

On Sunday evening last, 11th inst, after the usual Sunday evening service a presentation was made to W. Pritchard Esq. who for nearly two years past has given his service as organist and Sunday school teacher at the service held in the Locomotive offices of the Central Argentine Railway, and now having been offered a situation in one of the banks in Buenos Ayres, is about to leave Rosario for that city. Mr. W. O. Lucas said that it gave him great pleasure to convey to Mr. Pritchard the united wishes of those present for his future success, and to thank him very heartily for the good work that he had done in their midst, in promoting the musical portion of their services, and in training the children in the Sunday school. The congregation had purchased a handsome travelling bag which they hoped to present to Mr. Pritchard before he left, in token of their esteem.

In reply Mr. Pritchard said that it had given him great pleasure to work for the congregation, and that it was one of his chief regrets in removing from Rosario that he would be obliged to sever connection from the workshop services of the Central Argentine Railway, and although he needed no gift to keep him in mind of the people there and the numerous warm-hearted friends that he had made: neverthless he begged to thank them for their gift, and to assure them that he fully appreciated the feeling of good will which prompted it.

THE ANGLO-PARAGUAY LAND COMPANY LIMITED.

To the Editor of the Financial Times.

Sir,—

From recent advices from Paraguay I gather something that may be interesting to my fellow share and debenture holders, namely, that all the colonists at the Bermejo (Gandolfo) colony had "cleared out." This possibly may be an exaggeration, but coupled with the admission of the Board, at two recent meetings of the proprietors, to the effect that some colonists had 'escaped,' it appears to me that there must be some foundation for the report. I have written to the secretary of the company asking him if he has news in confirmation of the statement, and begging him to give my letter his immediate attention, but up to this moment I have not had a reply.

But supposing for the moment that there is no very considerable exodus of colonists at the present time, I should like to put it to the proprietors of the company whether they consider that the payments due from the "first settlers," commencing in December, 1893, will be met? The directors state that the colonists will have to pay, in addition to advances made to them, about fourteen shillings an acre for this land when they can purchase as many acres as they please, at a few miles' distance, for fourteen pence an acre, and even less?

Will not, then, any colonists who may remain until December, 1893, also clear out, in order to escape these payments, and settle themselves on cheaper and better lands than those of the Gandolfi colony?

Can anyone tell me, in view of these circumstances, where the interest on the £10,000 proposed to be raised over the heads of the debenture holders comes in?

Surely it is time that share and debenture holders should combine so as to seriously consider their interests, putting, first of all, a stop to this proposal of the directors.

I am, &c.,
Henry Valpy.

London, 10 Nov., 1892.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

Mr. Editor,

I was glad to see the speech of the Bishop of Gibraltar in your issue of Sunday. It may revive the discussion of this question which some time ago went up like a rocket in your columns to come down like a stick in the very small meeting in St. John's Schoolroom. I cannot recollect ever seeing such a poor performance as that discussion; it was redeemed neither by knowledge, ability nor wit, the clergy from Bishop Stirling down, and the laity from Jack Robinson up, seemed all at sea, tossed like a ship upon the bosom of a mighty ocean, without balast, compass, rudder, nor sheet-anchor. One would think that neither the Bible, church doctrine nor tradition had anything whatever to say, and teach, and insist upon: in a word, the Sunday question was left to be settled by a public meeting influenced by the opinions of a set of young fellows saturated in self-esteem and debauched with the indulgence of their own passions, athletic and otherwise. Such a sorry spectacle as that very, very small meeting it has never been my lot to behold—presided over by an Evangelical Bishop—led by clergymen of uncertain altitude craving for expressions of lay opinion on this Sunday question; just as if a church claiming unbroken apostolic succession, with a reord of eighteen or nineteen centuries, had nothing definite to say and to teach authoritatively! My views were ultra-Protestant, but I can scarcely tell what they are now that the authorised exponents of Church doctrine—Bible truth, utter such uncertain sounds, and shew such a desire to reduce the faith to a matter of bargaining.

It drives me to ask, must I and many other hitherto faithful children of the ancient British Church follow Cardinal Newman to Rome for authority, my Lord Bishop of the Falkland Islands?

We want not individual opinion. We need the voice of the church. The monthly or bi-monthly conference of the Buenos Ayres clergy into whose hands, at the Bishop's suggestion, the decision of the small, very small, St. John's meeting was relegated, has seemingly been dumb-founded, for not a word has, as far as I am aware, appeared since in the STANDARD from it. Of the sincerity of the clergy I have no doubt; but they have shewn a deplorable lack of wisdom, an extraordinary want of knowledge, and done unseemly homage to the gods of Olympus.

POBLADORES RAILWAY.

San Fernando, Dec. 14th.

Mr. Editor,

In your paper of the 10th inst. there is a letter signed by Mr. Henrich, who says that he is a resident of this town, but this appears to be untrue. At least I have done my best to look for him, but in vain, and I now beg that you will kindly furnish me with his address, as I mean to take legal proceedings against him for what he has said against me.

Your truly,
Luis Aguirre,
Station-Master.

Ed. Note.—Mr. Henrich's letter was simply dated San Fernando, and if he can substantiate his charges he will doubtless furnish Mr. Aguirre with his address. But if the letter was a fraud, and that no such person exists, as Mr. Aguirre says, we can only express our sincere regret that we published it without making fuller enquiry about "Mr. Henrich."

THE LATE JOHN LEMOINNE.

Lemoinne, John Emile, publicist, born in London, of French parents Oct. 17, 1815, began his studies in England, and finished them in France. In 1840 the director of the Journal des Débats intrusted him with the supervision of the English correspondece of that journal, a position which he long held. He has contributed to the Revue des Deux Mondes numerous articles, for the most part relating to political history, England, and biography. Several of these articles were published in a separate form, under the title of "Etudes Critiques et Biographiques," in 1862. He was elected a member of the French Academy in succession to Jules Janin, May 13, 1875, and his reception was on March 2, 1876. His keen and often hostile criticism of English policy was always read with interest by the more serious portion of Frenchmen, and was not disregarded in England; and it may be said that it is chiefly by his exertions as a journalist that he obtained admission to the French Academy: but he was the author of a number of able articles in the Revue des Deux Mondes, which have deservedly obtained a European reputation. M. Lemoinne had written no continuous book. "More than once," he said to his fellow Academicians, on the occasion of his reception, "when the ambition of sitting among you was suggested to me, I was told, 'Write a book.' My book, I have been writing it every day for thirty years, and I thank you for having discovered it." On Feb. 6, 1880, he was definitively chosen by the Left Centre for the Life Senatorship vacant by the death of M. de Lavergne, and in April of the same year he was appointed French Minister at Brussels, but he never took up the appointment.

CONGRESS.

THE DEPUTIES.

The House met at 3.45 p.m., and discussed and voted the following "incisos"—

7—Bateman Legacy.
8—Subventions.
9—Land and Colonies.
10—Immigration.
11—Historical Museum.

The legislators rose at 7 p.m.

The Senate met in secret sitting at 4.15, and argued the Judge Pizarro case till 8 p.m., when they decided, by 9 votes to 7, to leave his worship on the Bench and not to suspend him.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

"Canards" were not so numerous yesterday as on Wednesday, and the shooting was poor. Governor Didimus Pizarro refused to let a newspaper reporter within a mile of him, so there was nothing very fresh from the doctoral city. There was a depressing rumour afloat that Congress will not be able to finish its business and go home before New Year's Day.

Skating and bathing have commenced at Mar del Plata in the new Pearl of the North establishment. One of the bathers caught a seal on Wednesday, and was the local hero for the rest of the day.

The Chicago Exhibition in Duran's Saloon is open every day from noon till 11 p. m. It would be far wiser to keep a good many of the exhibits at home, as they will only make the world laugh. Send the raw materials; keep the "manufacture"; they might get lost on the way, and are too precious to be risked.

There was nothing new yesterday about the coming war between the two B's—Banda Oriental and Brazil. The whole thing is confined to hot-pilch writing in the Rio Grande papers.

Our friend Mr. George Mackern of 125 Calle San Martin takes the Almanack cake for next year, with his elegant and admirable Clock Calendar which will certainly find its way into every office in which time is money. By a simple arrangement in this Calendar bores can be thrown off the scent and deceived as to the hour when the "patron" intends to return from a purely imaginary lunch or appointment.

If the Lord Mayor will kindly order a few bill-stickers to be hanged right off, nobody will say anything about it, expect to thank him, as the audacious gentry in question now use their paste-brush on the walls of private houses as if these were simply old hoardings.

We thank Messrs. C English & Co., sole agents for Usher's "Old Vatted Glenlivet" for sending us a Christmas Box of a "combination case" of the world-renowned tipple Champagne, brandy and bitters form part of this excellent Christmas combination which we intend to combine with some lemon, sugar and water, and drink to their health on the 25th inst.

We are sorry to find that the Damas de Beneficencia are forced to urge on the Government an immediate enlargement of the Women's Mad-house. In the past seven years the number of inmates has increased as follows:

1885.....	375
1886.....	386
1887.....	419
1888.....	485
1889.....	546
1890.....	557
1891.....	555

The following are the principal prizes drawn in the Montevideo Lottery yesterday:—No. 1305, 20,000$; 5588, 1,000; 5916 and 1590, 500 each; 7943, 4982 and 4498, 200 each; 7841, 3204, 9408, 7238, 6989, 6642 and 5039, 100 each.

They manage these things better on the other side of the Plate. Two murderers have just been condemned to death in Montevideo.

The La Plata police pounced on a well-known thief there the other night. The fellow was dressed as a lady, in deep mourning, with a thick veil flowing from his bonnet, and his feminine get up was perfect; but when he alighted from the last train from this city he forgot his lesson and strode along the platform in such manly fashion that the policeman on duty spotted him in a second and pounced on him.

An editor who has reeched the advanced age of ninety attributes his long life and excellent health to the fact that he never expected to please everybody, and never tried to do so.

Some of our French subscribers are wagering amongst themselves that the Panama scandal will consign President Carnot to the political "carnero," just as the Legion of Honour business sent old Grevy in that direction. It is a decidedly queer thing to see the leading men in France mixed up in such an affair.

Apropos of what has "A Zoo" been kind enough to send us an essay on jackdaws?

The Lord Mayor's taste for flowers has procured for him quite a lot of valuable hints as to what much better use he could make of the public money (if there is a cent to spare, which most people doubt) than planting flowers in front of the church doors, to be stolen by the street Arabs. One of the most urgent changes required before flowers can be thought of is to get covered "vasura" carts instead of the abominable vehicles that now taint the city air all day long, instead of getting through their dirty work before 10 a. m. at the latest.

At the Camp Fire—The Veteran: "Speaking of bravery; why, durin' the Peninsular campaign, singlehanded, I made forty Frenchmen run." His Hearers: "How was that?" The Veteran: "Well, they chased me."

The Civil Registrar at Fray Bentos is in a serious dilemma. A person wishes to register a child born with two heads, and the Registrar does not know whether to enter it as two births or one!

Some fine day or night there will be a rousing blaze at the corner of Calles Piedad and Bulnes, as the Eiffel tower erected there for shot-making frequently takes fire. On Wednesday morning at 3 a. m. it took fire for the third time: but no great harm was done.

The good Zoos have marked out for distinction two "vigilantes" who did the State the poor service of saving the life of a dog and a cat respectively. Stray dogs and cats are the plague of this city, and a Society for their painless extinction would be of far greater public benefit than the Locust Extinction Committees. All the stray curs about the city look as if they wished they were dead, and it would be a charity to oblige them.

Governor Pizarro of Cordoba gives rather an amusing sketch of the political state of affairs up there just now which forced him to resign. In a telegram to President Peña he says:—"There is no use in my trying to explain it to you, as you would n't understand a word of it. A questionable Municipal election has been converted into a social question, a State question, and a religious question that upset a Minister, set pulpit oratory going, excited everybody, and caused such political confusion all over the place that I had to resign, finding it impossible to govern."

Whoever wants to lease for 15 years that white elephant the Argentine Pavilion of the Paris Exhibition can do so up to the 31st inst. Of all the follies of the crisis of progress, this outrageously costly Pavilion was the most pernicious. Most of the unfortunate European holders of Cedulas and other gilt-edged securities from here would never have touched them but for their visit to this famous Pavilion and the false idea it gave them of this country's wealth. The Argentine Pavilion has now been going a begging for a couple of years, but nobody seems inclined to have anything to do with the unlucky thing.

Mind your Stops.—There is a great virtue in stops; and it is as necessary to mind them as to mind one's head with a stone wall in front. Fancy this: "Mr. Chamberlain hurried on as fast as he could on his hands, tight-fitting gloves in one eye, a glass in his mouth, a cigar on the top of his head, a well-polished hat and Mrs. Chamberlain by his side." It is all a matter of a very few stops. The following was certainly most unfortunate at the end of a sweetheart's letter:—"God preserve you from your affectionate Georgie."

The Anglican Clergy request us to announce that Local Meetings in support of the Sunday League will be held as follows:—On Monday December 19th at Belgrano, on Tuesday Dec. 20th at Flores, on Thursday Dec. 22nd at Lomas, and on Thursday Dec. 29th at Quilmes. Further particulars will be announced. It is hoped that all interested in the due observance of the Sunday will make a point of being present at one or other of the meetings.

La Plata is just now a rather hot and disagreeable place for editors. We are sorry to read that some heartless person has threatened to "bastinado" the talented director of the Tribuno. A Society for the Protection of Editors is much required.

There is an extraordinary performance to-night at the Onrubia Theatre for the benefit of the "Union de Empleados Nacionales." The programme is an attractive "pot pourri" and the prices are low.

When the late Professor Proctor was an English school inspector, he one day asked a little girl to tell him the difference between a man and a brute. "A brute is an imperfect beast. Man is a perfect beast."

The members of the Argentine Red Cross Society will attend a Solemn Mass in the Merced Church this morning for its deceased members and Thursday, December 15th 1892.

Gold Premium.

FIRST RING..... 181.50%
SECOND RING..... 179.80%

The demand for cash gold was very strong this morning and nearly a million dollars had to be supplied to meet the requirements of the liquidation. Yet, the current of the speculation was bearish and prices ruled weak. About seven hundred thousand gold dollars changed hands for cash; the premium opened at 181%, fell to 180.50%, and closed at 181.50%. Operations for the end of the month embraced three hundred thousand dollars; the premium opened at 181%, fell to 180%, and closed weak at 180.20. The premium for the end of January fell to 178%, and closed at 179%. Gold on time was weak all morning and curbed the rise for cash operations.
Patriotic Bonds were firm at 74.20, but nothing was done in Internal Bonds. Spanish Bank shares were ste

Arrivals of wool were again very heavy this morning and over half a million kilos changed hands. The market ruled weak and operations were dull at first, but holders let go at last at a lower level than yesterday. Best fine Rambouillet wools from the West do not fetch more than $7.20 per 10 kilos now; best South kinds $8.50.

Two German firms are operating on a heavy scale in the wool market. In the last few days they have picked up over a million kilos.

A splendid parcel of Lincoln cross wool arrived from Magdalena to-day at the Central Produce Market. The parcel is exceptionally light. The consignee holds out for $10.50.

$7.35 per 100 kilos was paid for wheat to-day.

Exporters are again busy in maize at the Central Market and Rio Santiago.

Mr. Aug. Schulze, Director of the Deutsche Bank, Berlin, was welcomed to-day. Mr. Schulze arrived in the Clyde and this is not his first visit to the Plate, where he has a host of friends, all delighted to see him back after two years. Mr. Schulze comes to the Plate in connection with the Deutsche Uebersee Bank and will remain in our midst until Mr. Frederking returns from Europe to take charge of the management of the Bank.

Gold ruled very weak at the second ring, the premium closing at 179.80 for to-morrow, 179 ⅝ for the end of the month, and 177 ⅝ for the end of January. Patriotic Bonds rose to 74.50 for to-morrow and 74.70 for 31st inst. Internal Bonds were dull at 68.50. La Plata Cedulas were slightly firmer. A few shares of the Old Gas Company changed hands at 92.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the second ring to-day:—

The new Municipal tax law now under discussion before the Municipality will, if passed, almost double the Municipal taxes at present collected. The landlord or owner of the property has to pay for gas, kerosene, "vasura" etc. which is only collected from the owner of the property. When somes the monthly tax for precisely the same items which is only collectable from the tenants, and the law is so explicit that there is no possible confusion as to whether landlord or tenant pays, as both have to pay. The tax is double for hotels, banks, railway stations, importing houses etc; even brokers and others having small offices in a building have to pay so much a month. The rent to the Municipality from these taxes must be indeed enormous, and if the money was all spent in wooden pavements in our streets people would not grumble; but with the truly shocking pavement in Calles Rivadavia, Callao and Entre Rios, people naturally ask what becomes of all the money. When this new law is finally passed we shall publish the tariff: as it at present stands, most of the shopkeepers, almacens etc will have to pay from 30 to 40% per month. Then the City Improvement tax comes which is about a like sum; then the Municipal patente; then the National Government patente; then the Contribucion Directa: verily nothing in this country keeps growth with the taxes, and the day will assuredly come when this excessive taxation will lead to political changes, similar in character to the celebrated tea-tax in Boston.

It is to be hoped that the strong South East wind of the last few days has caused a rise in the waters of the Parana and Plate, as quite a fleet of vessels aground in the neighbourhood of Martin Garcia shows how low and how suddenly the river fell last week; a large Italian steamer, the Santa Fé, bound from Rosario to Rio, drawing 18 feet of water, is on a bank in only 4 feet of water, and the lighters sent up to her were insufficient and more had to be despatched yesterday; but there is no chance of getting her off even if emptied of her cargo until the river rises. It seems that when coming down from Rosario the river was so high that she came over the bank; but just as she got to Martin Garcia the river fell so suddenly that she is left almost high and dry, but she will suffer nothing in her bottom. Several other vessels are almost in the same plight. The strong South Easter of yesterday will probably flood the Plate, and it is to be hoped at the flood tide she will be got off.

Bricks were never cheaper in this market than at present; they are selling at 11⅝ per thousand against 35% per thousand a couple of years ago, and even at that high price not to be had without waiting a couple of months for them.

In the new budget a cent a word is added on telegrams and this is estimated will give $135,000 ⅝ to the Govt. which it is supposed will be employed in making new telegraph lines; but Mr. Deputy Varela very properly remarked that no such new lines can for the present be constructed, as the money spoken of is already included in the Minister's estimates to meet the expenses of the year. The debate in question had many points of interest for the market: first of all there was strong objection made to the item of $1,000 a month for office expenses to the president, which it was explained was to pay for visiting cards of the president and the printing and translation of his annual message to Congress. Sr. Olmedo said that the latter item cost the president from 4 to $5,000, which really seems an extravagant amount, but after some discussion the item was voted. The amount voted for correos y telegrafos is $282,012 ⅝ over that of last year and 100 new offices are to be opened. Deputy Godoy complained that in Jachal, the 2nd city in the province of San Juan with 20,000 inhabitants, hotels, paved streets and plazas there is no telegraph office; finally it was voted that an office as the same in Moron be opened. The neighbors of the town of Perico del Carmen had at their own expense constructed a telegraph line to Perico de San Antonio where there has been always a telegraph office, which the Postmaster now proposes to shut up as useless. A long debate ensued in which it turned out that there are 8 towns called Perico in Jujuy and several Deputies complained of the absence of plan or net work in our telegraph lines and instanced that in some parts of the country to send a telegram to an adjoining town the message had first to run over 3,500 kilometres of wire. Finally $50,000 were voted for a telegraph line from San Juan to Chilecito. Some great blunder seems to have occurred in the Budget as regard the salaries to the inspectors and interventors of Railways, which it appears should not have been charged at all, since the railway companies pay the salaries; it was consequently struck out, $200 a month to a lawyer and $100 to a procurador have been voted for these new officers for the Railway department whose duties will be to enforce the payment of fines imposed on the Railways; rather unpleasant news for our railway companies.

The sale of 15 square leagues of camp in the Pampa Central, belonging to General Rudecindo Roca, is reported for 105,000$ ⅝. Don Alberto Cerrantes was the broker who effected the sale, Don Juan Anchorena the buyer. The price brings out the land to cost 7,000$ ⅝ the league, which for any sort of good land may be considered cheap, and this land 4 years ago, when the premium on gold was very trifling, would have easily fetched from 10 to 15,000$ the square league, being far more than double the price it fetched to-day; but there is a very large amount of these Pampa lands offering for sale in the market, and, as a rule, those who want to buy them, know their quality and want to stock and live on them, have not the money to pay for them; and in all probability we must go back to the old system of selling lands to sheep-farmers and "medianeros," giving them their own time to pay for their lands at a moderate interest. Mr. Anchorena's purchase, which we publish now, establishes the market price, but we should like to be able to give our readers some further particulars about the land sold, its quality and locality, with the names of the adjoining owners. These items, if published, might bring to Mr. Cerrantes many other clients.

The Spanish brig Juanito, bound from Havana to the River Plate is now out 120 days and no news of her. The steamer Toro was dispatched yesterday from Montevideo to look her up along the coast.

It is really remarkable the wonderful growth of our port trade within the last year. The Madero Port is now so full of translantic steamers that the steamer Zenobia has to wait in the Darsena until some of the steamers leave one of the docks to give her place. We remember last year starting from the offices of Messrs. Larazabal y Correa Morales in Calle 25 de Mayo, and going down with Mr. Madero to have a look at the docks, which were quite empty, and not six steamers in the Darsena.

The Lloyd Brasilero Company has just launched in Montevideo a new river steamer constructed there called the Nyoao; she will run up the rivers.

A petition signed by 200 people, residents of the Llanos de La Rioja, has been presented to the Minister of the Interior asking of the Government to conclude the railway line from Dean Funes to Chilecito, and the petitioners ask for these works to be carried on merely to give employment to the hundreds of poor people who can get nothing to do, and will be obliged to emigrate to other provinces. It seems the railway is half made and at a stand-still, and it is to be hoped that the Minister will grant the request of the petitioners.

The sale of some lots of new line seed at $10 ⅛ the ton placed in the port of Santa Fé, is reported. Another meeting of exporters has been held in Rosario to request the Government to methodise the tax law on cereals.

The Montevideo Times gives very interesting news about the proposed new railways in the Banda Oriental. It is pleasanter reading than the alarming rumours of declaration of war with Brazil, or marching the whole Oriental army on the Rio Grande frontier. Some people up from Montevideo say that Herrera will stand no nonsense, and if the Brazilians in Rio Grande mean war they can have it. No one in B.A., thinks there is any danger, but then no one in Buenos Ayres in 1863 ever thought that Flores pushing off from the Gas House meant the Punie war with Paraguay; and some of our oldest residents always maintained that all River Plate wars originated in the Banda Oriental. The railway news is as follows:—

"The Comercio of Independencia (Fray Bentos) announces that attention is again being paid to the idea of building a branch railway from Fray Bentos to join the Midland Railway between the stations Alcorta and Merinos, about half-way on the route from Paso de los Toros to Paysandú. Some little time ago some engineers made the preliminary studies and surveys. Our provincial contemporary adds that Mr. Carlos Young, the Oriental engineer and holder of the concession for the line in question, is reviving the idea, having made fresh studies, and intends to endeavour to carry it out, either by selling the concession or by raising the capital by shares placed with the stock-farmers and merchants of the department and capitalists of Montevideo.

"There is no doubt that railway communication to Fray Bentos would open out a very important zone of country and be sure of considerable traffic, but we should think, for our part, that a far better route for such a line to take would be through Mercedes and Porongos direct to Durazno. This would also make the journey to the capital much shorter.

"A native contemporary announces that some engineers comissioned by the N. West of Uruguay Company are surveying the district between the station Palomas on that line and the village of Constitucion, Department of Salto, with the object of building a branch between those two points. The distance is only some 15 or 16 miles."

Messrs G. Kelsey and Company sold to-day at the Central Market the following wools:—

Kilos.		From	$
3,000	fine wool	Las Heras	7.70
8,500	do inferior	V. Tuerto	6.00
3,000	do do	Rawson	6.00

12,000	belly wool	various	3.30

The result of the sale of the 71 leagues of land in 25 de Mayo (Mendoza) advertised by auctioneer Olmi are as follows:—16 leagues sold at 74 cts. hectare or $1,850 per leagues to Messrs. Palacios, Schneider, Dr. Trenco Escobar and Mr. Fausto Bellasqui. Mr. Frank Rath of San Pedro Estancia, Bella Vista, bought 21 leagues at $1,850 per league. Total amount sold $68,450 m/n. Purchasers of these camps have secured a great bargain, as the reports of them are favourable. Mr. Olmi has in treaty the sale of the remainder of that large tract. The results of this sale mark a favourable point in the land speculation now growing in the market.
